Dear Friends & family, This update is mostly photos we are highlighting from this past year until now. Hope you enjoy it!

Recently, Craig & I were blessed to be invited to this special four-day event. There was a lot to digest and now we are praying as to how we should follow up.

The invitation read, "Helping the Haredim find Yeshua" may be one of the most important conferences on Jewish evangelism in our time.

This is an invitation-only event aimed at outreach workers and prayer warriors who have a special burden for reaching the Haredim—ultra-Orthodox Jews—in NYC & around the world with the Gospel.

As you all know many families have been fleeing wars and trying to survive despite the political unrest in many places such as Syria, Iraq, and Yemen. Many have been bombed out of their neighborhoods, relocated for safety, and navigating uncharted territories different from their homeland.

I (Jeri) and a very close friend feel in our hearts the call to show the love of Jesus to refugees. One phase of our time will be assisting a medical team that will be providing essential emergency care, medical screening, teaching VBS and praying over families, etc.

This trip is an opportunity that will provide additional understanding and learning about the people groups we are already working with in NYC, plus broadening our networks with ministries overseas.

if you desire to contribute toward this, please see bottom of newsletter for donation information. Funds raised will be used for airfare, lodging, transportation, meals, and various travel expenses.

Jeri playing the congos worshipping the Lord at our church.

Our young Kurdish friend receiving his USA Citizenship Certificate! His family (mom next to him) came here on Asylum from Syria when they had to flee for their lives.

UNI Board members sitting on the stoop in front of our old apt. They faithfully come every year for the UNI board meeting. We always have a very fruitful & encouraging Convalescent Home where we sang songs, shared & prayed for these dear precious elderly folk.

Our "Beginner" ESL class. It always amazes me how you can make friends with so few words since they barely speak English & I only know a few Arabic phrases.

Church Retreat

Here we are visiting a friend from Algeria who spent a month at this Immigration Jail in New Jersey.

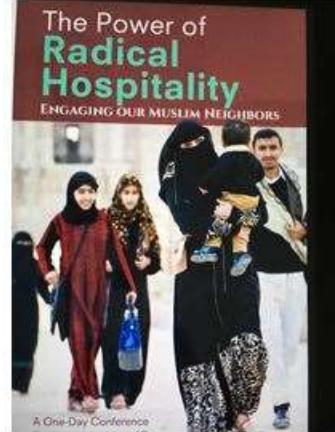

My ESL students invited me to this very first, "Yemeni Ladies Bazaar" in Brooklyn.

Craig is walking into the Immigration Court in Manhattan to support our friend who got arrested by ICE. After a few hours the Judge released him and we all applauded. (I got reprimanded from the guard for taking this photo)

Our church started a new ESL Class. We only expected a few people to show up on the first night and to our total surprise this amount of people turned out.

Jeri assisted Fauzia (fake name) who was a speaker at this conference in Philadelphia. Fauzia, an immigrant to the U.S. shared a moving story of her personal pilgrimage and the persecution she experienced for following Jesus even here in the USA which had us all in tears.
